How much will it cost me?

A Wedding at Wesley Performing Arts Centre costs $330 (incl GST).

Do I have to pay a Bond?

Wesley Performing Arts Centre does not charge a bond, however a deposit of $100 is payable at the time of signing an agreement. This is then deducted from your final payment. Any other costs will be invoiced separately.

Can I use the Stage Lights?

Naturally, as with the audio system, kitchen and all other facilities these are available for use for a small extra charge. Wesley Performing Arts Centre requires that you engage a professional to operate the sound and lights. We can, of course, assist you with this.

Become a member of the Friends of Wesley Performing Arts Centre and get $50 off the cost of your Wedding!

For a very reasonable $100 per year for a family you get $10 off most shows presented at Wesley Performing Arts Centre with a full price over $20, two free drinks from the bar per year as well as a cheaper wedding.

Great value, and there are singles Memberships available too.

Memberships available NOW at wesleypac.com.au.

Where to find us:

Wesley Performing Arts Centre began life in 1912 as the Wesley Methodist Church. In 1977, the Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian Churches united to form the Uniting Church in Australia. This left a surplus of buildings and so in 1992 Wesley Performing Arts & Cultural Centre was formed and purchased the local red brick building on the corner of Roberts Avenue and Urquhart Street, Horsham with its beautiful pipe organ and warm timber interior for use as a venue to present performing arts for the Wimmera. In 1998-1999 substantial redevelopment was carried out and a new foyer, dressing rooms and toilets were added to improve the venue and it has become recognised as one of the premier recital venues in regional Victoria.

With its welcoming semi-religious aura and no denominational affiliation, Wesley Performing Arts Centre offers the perfect venue for a civil ceremony or non-denominational religious ceremony that will mean everyone will feel at home.
